

VILLA CHASE SUGGESTS CHANGES IN EQUIPMENT

Troops in Mexico Have Handy Devices for Cooking as Result of Long Marches.

Reports Set Forth Need of Short Barrels on Carbines and Pack Mule Kitchen.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, April 25. By motor courier to Columbus, N. M., May 1.—Many practical improvements in details of campaigning and of service equipment have been worked out or suggested in the five weeks' chase of Villa and his bandits.

More varied wireless equipment is one change. The art of cooking in the field made advances which demonstrated the advisability of the addition of some sort of frying pan to the mess kits of the men. The men have been thrown upon their own resources for cooking so often that probably every man who went to the front could not cook. For an assistant chef, lacking frying pans, they used their mess pans, which have a long handle, an adjustment feature, especially had for flipping eggs because the pan usually flipped, too.

A pack mule kitchen is the most important improvement suggested in the cooking. Mules can follow the cavalry anywhere and get there before dark, carrying the men of a meal properly cooked by competent chefs.

Cavalry Has Established Record.

The cavalry has proved that it is second to none in the history of the American army. It has marched more than fifty miles a day, at times through mountains where the trails were unknown, through canyons which the natives declared horsemen could not penetrate, without regular rations and living on a little meat and hard ground corn without salt.

The cavalry has been useful in this campaign. The cavalry carbine proved too long, suggesting a shorter-barreled rifle, which would oscillate less in the sling while packed on horses. The necessity for some ready system of hobbling horses so that they could not stray while grazing on unfenced prairies was brought out sharply. So also was the desirability of smaller horses, the low weight-carrying type of cavalry animals which can do great jumping and ring work.

The hunter type of animals, suitable for park and round riding, did not prove as useful in this campaign as the smaller native ponies of the west and southwest, which were able to shift for themselves and live on grass when corn, oats or hay was low.

"Iron Ration" Stands Test.

The old "iron ration," bacon, coffee and hard tack, with a little sugar and salt, stood every test of this campaign so far, keeping the men in remarkably good health.

The only dress reform indicated was in shoes for rough work in deserts and mountains. Ordinary heavy marching shoes wore out in a few days.

quently, in some cases even in one day of mountain climbing. The footgear which seems to have held up better than shoes and leggings is the high-leaved boot with heavy hobnails.

The practicality of automobile trucks for carrying supplies through mountains and over bad roads, plains with no road, as demonstrated by the Mexican chase, was one of the most important campaign discoveries.

Gen. Pershing himself said that the trucks climbed "like mountain goats."

AMERICANS ADOPT RUSE TO FOOL PEON SNIPERS

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 1.—A story of an ingenious plan employed by an American truck officer to rid the path of the motor supply trains on their way to the Mexican front of some of the snipers that have been harassing them recently was brought here today.

"We had been sniped at several times from the same point in the rocky canyon between El Valle and Naniquiba," a truck man said. "On our last trip we received information that the Mexicans again were preparing to shoot at us that night. Consequently, we were within a few miles of the place the train was stopped and our lights were hooded. The officer in charge of the train took a small detachment and went ahead to a point opposite where the Mexicans were believed to be. He fixed a flashlight on a rock about a hundred yards from the soldiers and threw its beam in the direction of the snipers. The Mexicans immediately fired a volley at the light, disclosing their whereabouts. The train then returned, and in returning the Americans killed one of the Mexicans, but the others, possibly three or four men, escaped."

AMERICAN FORCES ARE RUNNING DOWN VILLISTAS

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, SAN MIGUEL, P. A., CHIHUAHUA, April 30, via wireless to Columbus, N. M., May 1.—Columns of American cavalry have been active today running down fugitive Villistas. Like men of iron they have been riding relentlessly through the mountain wilderness of the continental divide.

It is known here that Gen. John J. Pershing, the expeditionary commander, is pleased with the results obtained and that many valuable reports have been made to the American military authorities. However, it is pointed out that this information is of such importance that its nature now cannot be made public. Col. George A. Dodd, who, with a cavalry detachment, defeated a large Villista force in the rocky canyons of the Sierra Madre range about a week ago, reached here today from Minaca, his base, and held a long conference with Gen. Pershing. No statement was made following the meeting.

American troops are now concentrated at strategic points along the line of communications from Columbus to the front and the Carranza forces that have been gathered near Guerrero have manifested a desire to co-operate with them in every possible way.

U. S. FORCES PREPARE FOR A STAY IN MEXICO

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 1.—Nine truck loads of ordnance leaving the base here yesterday for the front, together with other activities, indicated preparations there are of more or less permanent nature.

An analysis of supplies sent forward from here in the last few days disclosed that among them were numbers of mess kits, saddle bags and other field equipment, as well as much lumber and building supplies, supposedly for use in repairing bridges, erecting executive buildings and the constructing of tent floors.

First reports of desertion were received from the front. These said eight cavalrymen had deserted from a cavalry regiment because of the rigorous march in northern Mexico.

U. S. MARSHAL TO AID STATE.

Concerted Action in Behalf of Fishermen Held by Indians.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 1.—County authorities prepared today to seek the assistance of the United States marshal to obtain the release of Capt. A. Costilovich and seven other Austrian fishermen made prisoners in Hales pass yesterday by Lummi Indians and taken captive to the Indian reservation on Lummi Island near here. The sheriff of Whatcom county was asked to rescue the fishermen, who surrendered when surrounded by a band of Indians armed with rifles, but said he could do nothing as the reservation was outside of state jurisdiction. It was believed the Indians would promptly give up their captives if confronted by a federal officer.

The state fish commissioner, who gave permission to the white men to fish in Hales pass, said the Indians probably would be prosecuted for kidnapping. The trading Americans, in returning the fishermen, were returning the continuation of a long series of disputes between the Lummi Indians and the state authorities and white fishermen over the Indians' claim to exclusive fishing rights in Hales pass.

MARINE ENGINEERS STRIKE.

Men on Lighters Tie Up Traffic in New York.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The marine traffic of this port was seriously affected today by a strike of the engineers and firemen on the vessels of the lighterage class. Hundreds of tugboats and other towing craft were idle at their piers and the congestion of freight, involving delays of cargoes on steamships and railroads, presented a serious problem.

The engineers demand wage increases approximating 14 per cent and recognition of their association. The firemen ask 20 per cent more pay. Of more than 700 tugs and steam lighters engaged in river and harbor traffic it was estimated that only forty were being operated.

Some of the boat owners declared they were prepared to grant the wage increases sought, but that the Beneficial Association of Engineers refused to let its members deal individually with their employers.

"STAND BY THE PRESIDENT."

Advice Given by Paul J. Prodoehl to German Catholic Union.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 1.—Members of the German Catholic Union of Maryland were urged by their president, Paul J. Prodoehl, in an address yesterday to stand by President Wilson in the present national crisis. Mr. Prodoehl said that as the head of an organization of 6,000 German Catholics, proud of their title of American citizens, he resented the attempt to place upon such citizens the title of hyphenates.

"If war ever comes—we hope it never will—we will make the most sacred of our pledges to stand by our President," said Mr. Prodoehl.

DOING HIS PART.

Rupe Mills Reports Daily to Newark to Fulfill 1916 Contract.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Federal League may be regarded in some quarters as a dead issue, but it would be impossible to convince Rupe Mills, a member of the Newark Feds last year, that this is a fact. Mills has reported for work as a Newark Federal leaguer and he intends to report every day this season. Furthermore he expects to draw down all that his 1916 contract with the Federals calls for.

Mills, a former Notre Dame star, signed a two-year contract with the Newark team last season. He finished the 1915 campaign with the Feds and after the peace agreement he was offered a certain sum to cancel his contract. He insisted on being paid in full. No other arrangement would satisfy him, so Pat Powers, the agent of Harry F. Sinclair in the disposition of all players with Newark last season, announced that if Mills insisted on being paid in full he must report every day.

for work at the Newark park. Mills has answered the challenge and will report every day.

Mills began work Wednesday. He will do what work he can whenever the weather is fair and he will call for his check on the 1st and 15th of each month.
